Dear Stephen,

Life on the campaign trail is exciting and very rewarding . . . I am having a great time!

I wanted to write and tell you a little about some of the places I have been in my travels.

Thanks to your generous support, I have been spending a lot of time in many of the early primary states including Iowa, New Hampshire, South Carolina, Florida, and Michigan where I've been meeting with voters and sharing my positive message.

I recently visited Le Mars, Iowa where I enjoyed an ice cream sundae with some folks before hosting an "Ask Mitt Anything" Town Hall in Sioux Center

I have been hosting these events all across the country, and it's a great way to get my message out as well as to learn what's on the minds of my fellow Americans.

A few days earlier, I stopped into Harvey's Bakery in Dover, New Hampshire and spoke with voters while they ate breakfast. I especially enjoyed chatting with a table of women who call themselves "The Golden Girls" -- a close-knit group who have breakfast together at the coffee shop six days a week.

I've taken the liberty of enclosing some candid shots from my trips. I hope you enjoy these pictures, because it's your generosity that makes my travels possible.

But more importantly, your generosity helps fund advertising in these early states and provides the ground troops for our grassroots organization.

My repeated visits to the early primary states have proven critical to our success. I am pleased to report that several recent polls show us leading in the early primary states of Iowa and New Hampshire.

We can attribute our success to two factors:

Over, please . . .

Page Two

First, our message is resonating with voters and our early television ads have helped to get that message out. Your generous support made this media blitz possible. Now we must keep it up!

Second, is our strong grassroots effort. Our people in the field are doing an incredible job of getting our message out, recruiting supporters, and organizing an impressive group of volunteers.

You are one of my most generous supporters and I am counting on your continued support as we head into the important summer months.

I will continue to travel to the early states and across the nation to meet with voters, listen to their concerns, and share my vision for a better America.

With your continued strong support, I'll give speeches, host rallies, visit county fairs, and probably enjoy an ice cream sundae or two (fortunately the hectic pace of the campaign helps burn off the extra calories)!

This one-on-one time spent with the voters is critical. It allows me the opportunity to hear what people think is important, and it lets them get to know me.

Whether I'm giving a major speech or sitting down for breakfast at a diner, I always discuss the important issues facing our nation. Issues like national security, taxes, government spending, and change . . . the change that's so desperately needed in Washington.

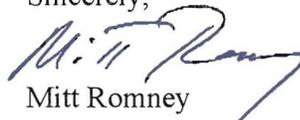

Will you help keep both our grassroots and advertising efforts going strong by making an additional contribution for one of the amounts suggested on your personal reply form?

Please return your contribution in the enclosed envelope, or you may make your contribution immediately by going to our website at: www.MittRomney.com/Trail.

Our message is focused on bringing conservative change to Washington and it is resonating with voters in Iowa, New Hampshire and all along the campaign trail. We can't afford to slow down our efforts one bit.

I look forward to working with you in the weeks and months ahead as we build an even stronger team, reach even more people with our positive message, and continue to advance in the polls. Thank you in advance for your generous reply.

Sincerely,

Mitt Romney

P.S. Your continued generosity is crucial to our success. Will you help again? Please use the enclosed envelope to send your generous contribution to my personal attention or contribute immediately at www.MittRomney.com/Trail. Thank you for everything you're doing to keep our campaign going strong!
